1. Introduction

1.1. Background

The current delivery of the COPKIT website comprises the public part of the website which is considered a significant tool and an important instrument for the dissemination of COPKIT project.

As such the main objectives of the COPKIT website are the following:

- Promote the dissemination of COPKIT to the general public, by publishing COPKIT public deliverables and announcing public events.
- Act as a contact point for related linked projects.

1.2. Purpose and Scope

This document has been prepared in order to formalise the submission of the deliverable D8.3 COPKIT Project Website in the Participant Portal, although the deliverable is not a report, but the website itself.

2. COPKIT Website

2.1. Web Access

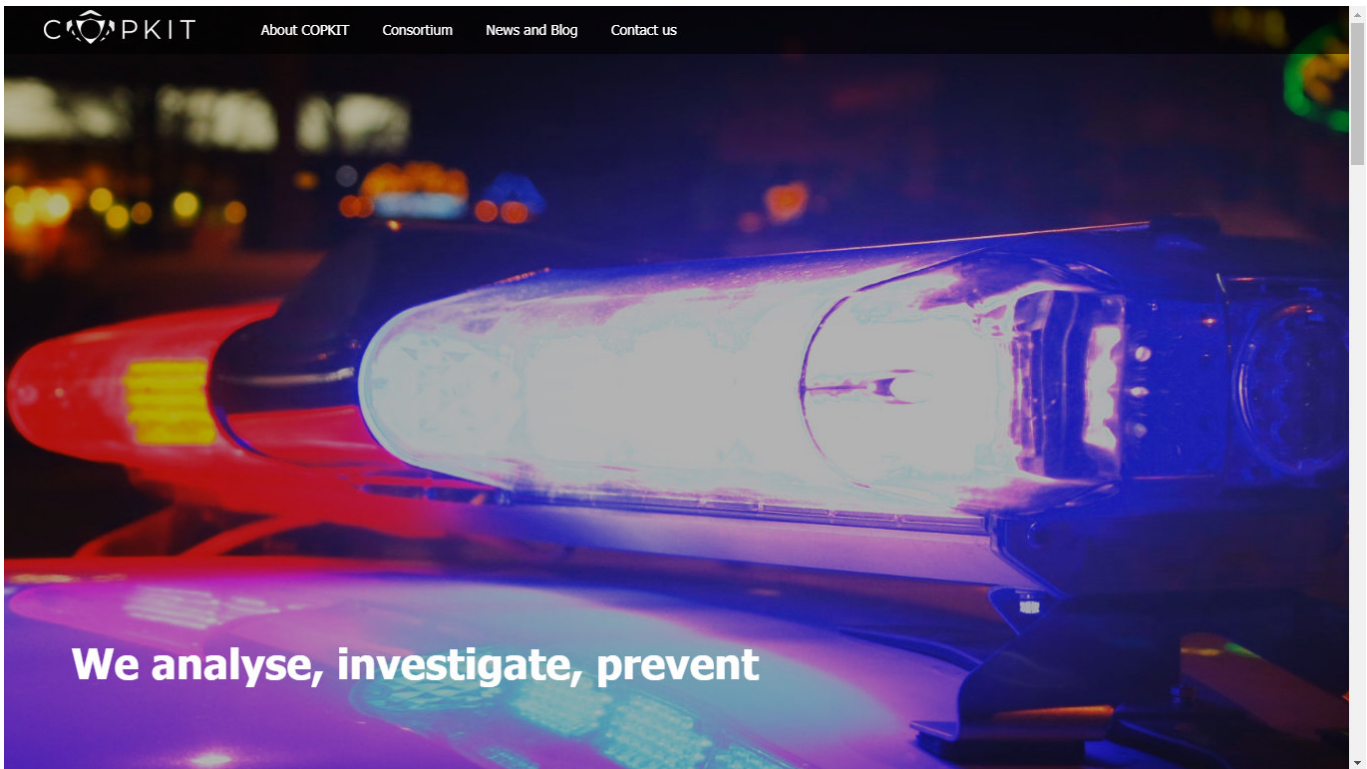

The COPKIT public website is of free access. The URL is <https://www.copkit.eu>

2.1.1. Site Map

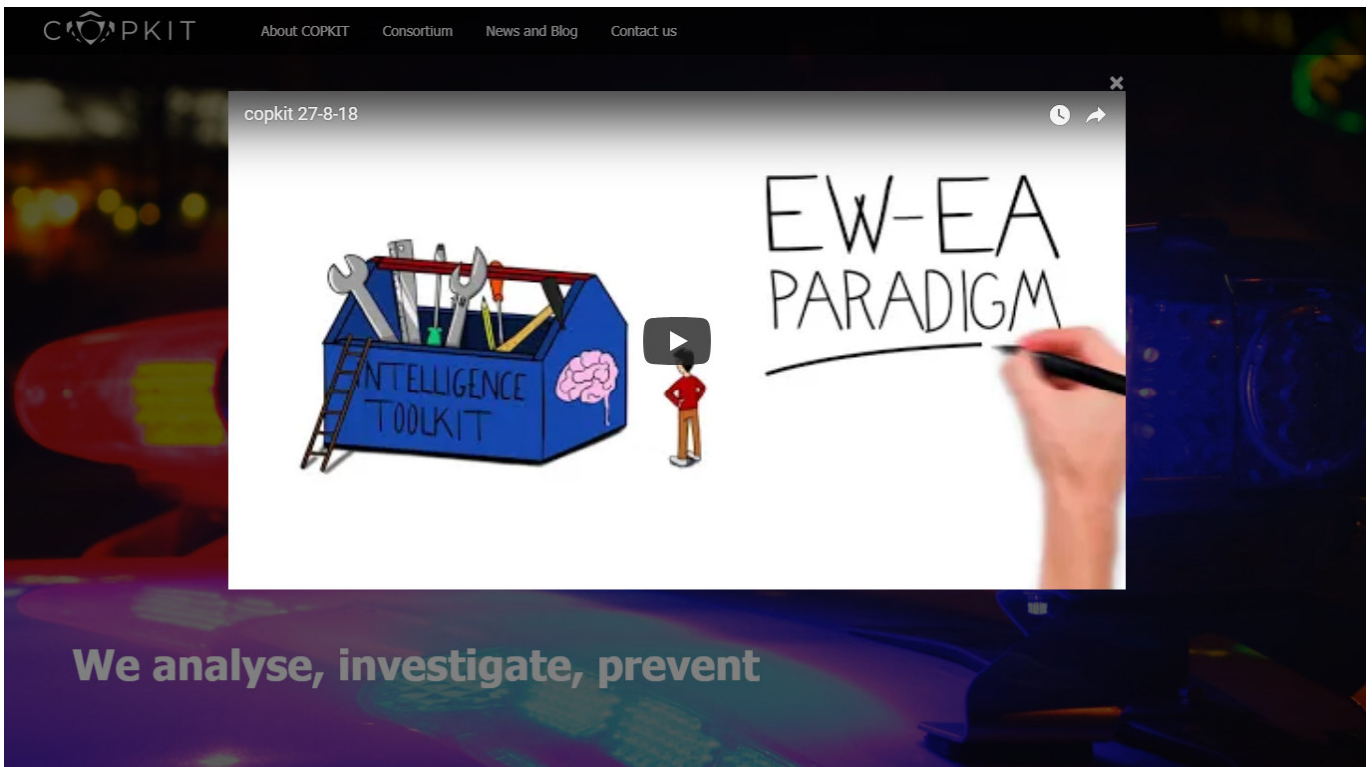

The COPKIT website contains the following menus:

- About COPKIT
- Consortium
- News and Blogs
- Contact us

The figure below shows the main page of the COPKIT website:

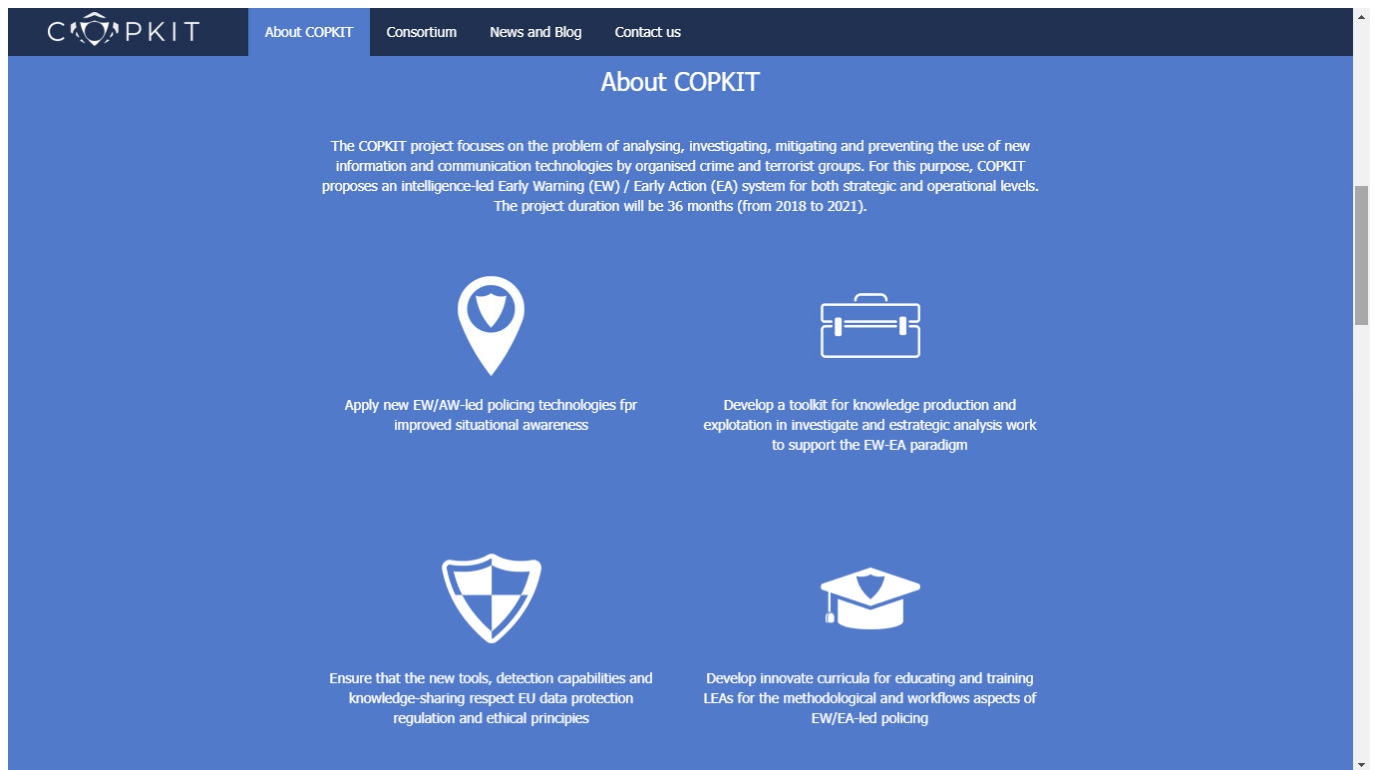

In addition, the main page of the COPKIT website has the possibility to run a video for the presentation of the project. A snapshot of the video in this home page is shown in the following image:

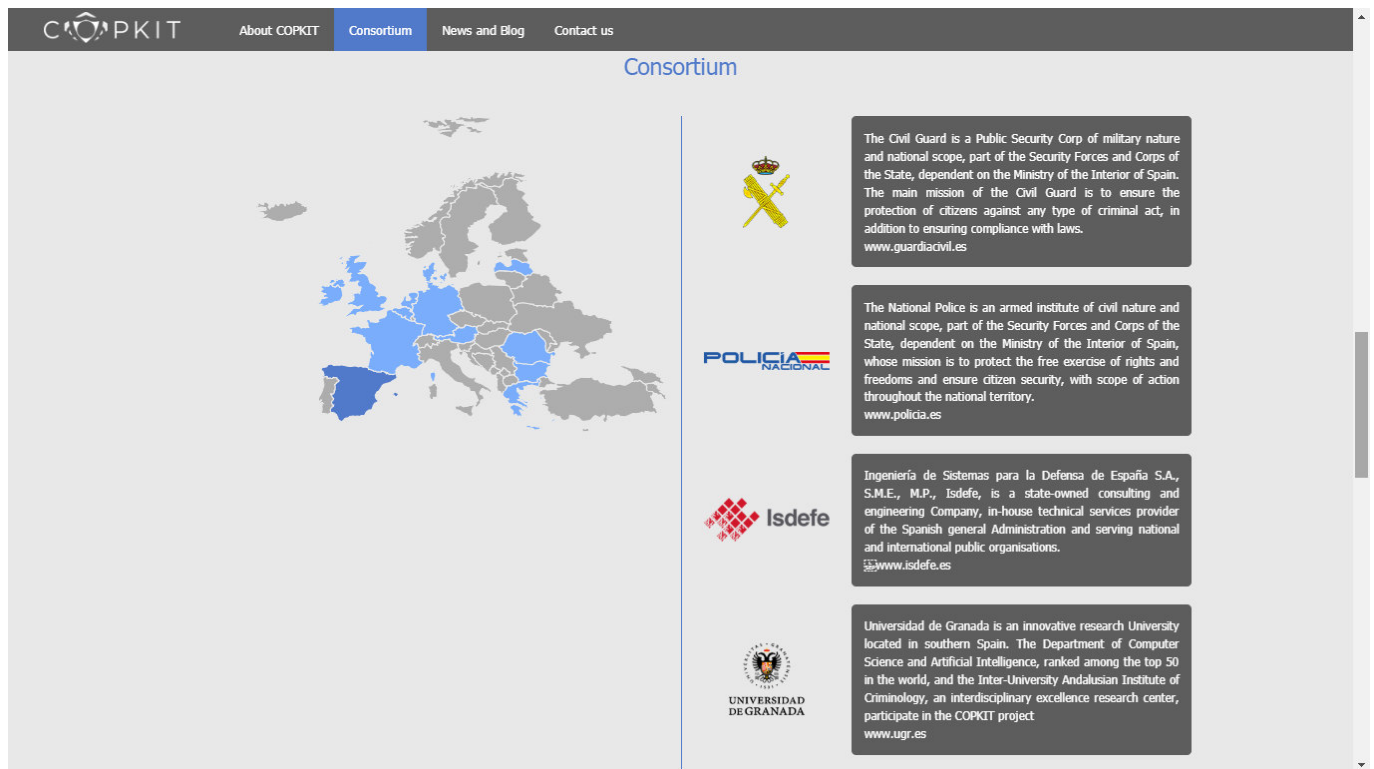

2.2. About COPKIT menu

The “About COPKIT” area of the COPKIT website presents a brief description of the COPKIT project and its main four objectives, as in the following image:

2.3. Consortium

This page shows a map with the countries of all COPKIT Consortium organisations shaded in blue. By clicking on one of these countries the information (logo, short description and link) of that country’s partners appears on the right side, as it is shown in the image below for the case of Spain (that has the bigger number of participants):

2.4. News and Blog

This part of the COPKIT Website shows the news, press releases, information on events, blog inputs, and different public resources that will be available along the project.

Currently one Press release for the Kick off meeting of the project held in June in Madrid (Spain), and two news for the different workshops to be held in September in Sofia (Bulgaria), have been uploaded.

2.5. Contact us

This section allows visitors to send any communication they like to the project through a general email copkit@copkit.eu.

The links to the COPKIT social networks (LinkedIn, Facebook and Twitter) are also accessible in the bottom part of this page.

On the lower left corner the COPKIT logo allows the partners to access the internal, private COPKIT website used for internal management of the project. Also on this corner there is a link to the legal statement that has to be read and agreed by the page visitor to send a communication to the COPPKIT consortium.
